

KOHLER'S DEFENSE STARTED

"Golden Rule" Chief
Claims He Was Victim of a "Trap"

WIFE IN SCANT ATTIRE

Described by Her Husband
on Witness Stand—Says
Reckless Officer Was Behind the Ice Box.

Cleveland, O., March 13.—Sensational testimony was adduced in the trial of Cleveland's "Golden Rule" Chief of Police, Fred Kohler, on a charge of conduct unbecoming an officer, before the civil service commission.

Samuel D. Scheerer, former husband of the woman in the case, gave his version of the incidents at the Scheerer home, which constitute the basis for the charges against the police chief.

The prosecution then rested, and Dr. Maurice Budwig, first witness for the defense, stated that he had prescribed for Kohler, while the chief was at home in bed on February 2, 1912, the date of his first alleged visit to the Scheerer home.

On the night of June 5, 1912, Scheerer said he smashed a window in his home after ringing the doorbell for several minutes, and, going through the house, found Kohler hidden behind the ice box in the kitchen, minus his collar and socks.

"You've got me," Kohler exclaimed, according to Scheerer. "Now what are you going to do with me?" Then they went upstairs to where Mrs. Scheerer was found, Scheerer described Kohler and his wife as being in "scanty attire."

Scheerer insisted that his wife must go away that night, and said he asked Kohler to provide a place for her to stay.

"Sam, you wouldn't put me out of the house tonight?" the witness said his wife pleaded.

Clayton H. Benjamin, a friend of Scheerer, was then called to identify Kohler and Mrs. Scheerer, the witness said. Finally Mrs. Scheerer left the house, Scheerer said, and during the conversation which followed the witness said Kohler asked that the story be kept from his wife.

I said: "You can rest assured that she will never learn about this from me," Scheerer said. "I thought it was the only sensible thing he had said during that evening."

Regarding Benjamin's testimony Scheerer said he did not remember that his wife had said she was to blame for having invited Kohler there that evening. He admitted that Kohler had said he had come there that evening in the expectation of meeting other parties.

Members of the commission examined Dr. Budwig's daybook memorandum of his visit to Chief Kohler on February 2, and City Solicitor Wilcox declared that the name "Fred Kohler" seemed to him to be "written over an erasure."

After questioning Dr. Budwig concerning his visits to other patients on that day, Police Surgeon F. B. Norton was called by the defense to further establish an alibi for Chief Kohler on the charge of the alleged visit to the Scheerer home on February 5. Norton testified to Kohler's illness on that day. Policeman Charles Smith was about to take the stand when adjournment was ordered until 1 o'clock this afternoon.

In a statement issued last night Chief Kohler outlines what will probably be the line of his defense against the charges of immoral conduct with Mrs. May Scheerer on June 5 last. He says he was given to understand that he was to meet Mr. and Mrs. Scheerer and another couple at the Scheerer home that night, and says he saw he was the victim of a trap when he got there and found only Mrs. Scheerer.

His statement claims the evidence so far has not shown any immoral conduct on his part.

An hour and a half was consumed, following the opening of the hearing, in arguments over the admissibility of testimony by Attorney Alexander C. Mackenzie, attorney for Scheerer. The defense contended that this was an unwarranted attempt to lead up to the introduction of an alleged confession by Mrs. May Scheerer of her relations with Kohler.

The civil service commissioners finally ruled that Mackenzie could answer questions regarding a talk he had with Kohler in his office, but that the testimony could not be given in narrative form.

In answer to questions, Mackenzie said that Kohler and Scheerer

REPUTATION FOR FAIR DEALING WORTH A FORTUNE

(By John P. Fallon.)

Henry Ward Beecher once said, "A reputation for fair dealing is itself a fortune."

The merchant who is in business to stay knows that fair dealing and absolutely truthful advertising is the only way to get customers and keep them.

These are the essentials of success. They are the principles by which the reliable merchants who advertise in THE ADVOCATE do business.

You can rely upon the advertisements which appear in this paper every night. The merchants who pay for these announcements cannot afford to risk their reputations. They know it pays them to advertise only so long as they continue to give their customers superior merchandise at honest prices and provide efficient store service.

came to his office to talk over the happenings on the night of June 5. He said that during the conversation Kohler told Scheerer that as chief of police he had as much right to be in his home as Scheerer had.

He testified that Kohler said: "I have a right to enter any home in Cleveland."

To this, Mackenzie continued, Scheerer rejoined: "What, without your necktie and socks on?"

The witness testified that Kohler then explained that he had gone to the Scheerer home on the invitation of Mrs. Scheerer, and that he expected to find another man and woman there.

He quoted Kohler as saying: "When I saw Mrs. Scheerer was alone I realized I was caught in a trap."

In answer to a question from Scheerer as to why he didn't leave, Mackenzie said Kohler replied: "Oh, there wasn't anything wrong there."

Scheerer followed Mackenzie on the stand.

Samuel D. Scheerer is well known to many Newark people. He has frequently visited Newark while representing a Cleveland concern. He was popular with his business acquaintances here.

ONE KILLED AND TWENTY INJURED AT YOUNGSTOWN

Youngstown, O., March 13.—Erie railroad passenger train No. 8 was struck by a Mahoning Valley street car at West Lake's crossing near the heart of the city today. One passenger in the street car was killed, and 20 injured, five of them fatally.

The passenger train was eastbound. Immediately following its collision with the street car the latter was struck by a west bound Erie freight. Jammed between the two trains the car was literally smashed to pieces.

Great difficulty was experienced in extricating the dead and wounded.

ARRESTED FOR STEALING HOT COOK STOVE

Bert Griggsby was arrested Thursday afternoon by Headquarters Officer George McClure on a charge of stealing a red hot stove from the home of a foreigner in South Second street.

The theft occurred several days ago but as Griggsby was unknown to the victims and their description was meagre, he was not apprehended until today. The woman from whom the stove was stolen found Griggsby on the street, chased him into an alley and cornered him until the officers could arrive. Griggsby went to the home and told the woman that as her husband was employed at the Wehrle factory, he could get another stove.

He emptied the fire from the stove and hauled it away, selling it at a second hand store.

The Newark Y. M. C. A. is making plans for a similar organization. The boys will be required to sign up at the Y. M. C. A. and definite instruction will be given them as to the plans for the work. Any boy in the city above ten years of age, whether or not a member of the Y. M. C. A., will be entitled to membership in this club. The Board of Trade of the city has voted to award some liberal prizes to those boys doing the best work. All boys wishing to join this club should enroll at the Y. M. C. A. before March 20. One hundred boys are wanted.

4 SERBIAN TRANSPORTS ATTACKED

Cettinje, Monte., March 13.—Four Serbian transports yesterday were riddled with shells fired by an unidentified war vessel according to reports received today. From two sources it is declared that the attacking vessel flew the Austria-Hungarian flag. The attack occurred off San Giovanni Di Medua as they were conveying strong detachments of Serbian troops to assist the Montenegrans in their siege of the fortress of Scutari. Two transports were set on fire. There is no report of casualties. Feeling against Austria-Hungary has been high since Tuesday when the Austrian minister said his government objected to Serbian troops assisting in the siege of Scutari.

Belgrade, Serbia, March 13.—An official report today says: "About fifty Serbian soldiers were killed on board the Serbian transports at San Giovanni Di Medua on the Adriatic coast yesterday by shells from the Turkish cruiser Hamidieh. Much of the ammunition on the transports exploded."

GOVERNOR ADDRESSED DELEGATES

Of Rural Life and Market
Congress, Talking on Improved Highways

LARGE NUMBER PRESENT

Including Many Experts on Road Building—Licking County Expected to Assist in Bettering
National Road.

Columbus, March 13.—Ohio, by taking advantage of the inactivity of other states of the United States, hopes to secure a large share of the federal appropriation for the improvement of roads. This was a statement made by Governor Cox last night before the rural life and market congress at Memorial Hall.

The plan is to have the government highway department turn over to Ohio two-fifths of the appropriation of $500,000. The state will supply an additional $200,000, while Franklin, Muskingum and Licking counties are expected to add a total of $200,000. This would give $500,000 in all for the national road between Columbus and Zanesville. The United States Congress authorized the states of the Union to draw on the treasury for $10,000 each. Failure to do this has allowed the accumulation of a sum which has been uncalled for.

The attendance at the first session yesterday afternoon was about 1,000, while the evening session was attended by approximately 1500 delegates. The attendance this morning was considerably larger, three special trains coming in from the Hocking Valley.

"If we are able to secure this sum from the government, with the amounts to be added by the state and the counties, I am sure we shall have sufficient to start a great state highway," said the governor last evening. "By constructing the road from Columbus to Zanesville this year I am confident in subsequent years the state and counties will lend their aid in continuing the highway in each direction across the state."

Governor Cox addressed the congress on "Rural Life and Civilization." He declared the student of government cannot fail to see the importance of constructing suitable roads to facilitate the transportation of food stuffs from one part of a state or country to another. "A great and elaborate as are the railroad systems of the modern day, we seem to have lost sight of the necessity of establishing feeders to these great systems," he said.

"We are a great people and are aware of the diversity of our resources. Nothing in the line of development is beyond the people of Ohio."

The governor praised the personnel of the present legislature and added that the accomplishments were among the most important in the state's history.

He explained in detail the project of asking aid from the government in the construction of the proposed highway—a reconstruction of the old National Road. He insisted that this road should be paved.

The governor called attention to the bill now pending, providing for the purchase of a prison farm. "We now have good men in the penitentiary, who appeal to the warden to provide work for them. I am heartily in favor of purchasing a farm and employing the convicts in making brick which we may use in paving these roads."

"Some may say this idea smacks of Socialism. I cannot see it in that way. I consider it a wise and economical plan. After we have secured these highways we will give to the nation the best development of rural life, the best schools and the best highways known on this side of the Atlantic."

"The Commercial Value of Good Roads" was explained by Philip T. Colgrove, president of the Michigan Good Roads Association. He favored a one-mill tax to be used in the construction of an inter-county system of highways. "Fine figures furnished since his arrival in Columbus," he commented, "show a one-mill levy, the state would be in a position to construct two miles of macadam road way the first year, and that in ten years a system of 10,000 miles would be in operation. It is possible, he said, to raise all this money in addition to the keep expense."

"The residents of the cities are able to support these projects," he said, "and it will be these, as the heaviest property holders, who will bear the burden of the expense. The farmers little realize what damage they inflict on such a movement by their antagonism toward a tax for building these roads."

"It has always been my contention that as long as the railroads charge a fee for riding on their lines, it is no more equitable for the city man to ride over the country roads without may his fee than it is for the farmer to demand of the railroads that they offer him free transportation.

"Congress gradually is coming to the point where it sees the wisdom of providing roads for the farmers. I consider it an outrage that it has expended billions of dollars in the maintenance of rivers, harbors and lakes and has utterly failed to offer suitable roads to lead to the rivers and harbors," Mr. Colgrove urged immediate action in building roads.

Rev. J. B. Schmitt, pastor of the Roman Catholic church at Burkhardt, spoke on "What Good Roads and an Industrious Farmer Mean to the Country Mission." His address elicited an unusual amount of applause and received the commendation of the delegates. He urged a discontinuance of a habit, which he believed altogether too prevalent, of ridiculing the farmer, and asked for a display of a charitable spirit between city people and the farmer, adding "that if it was not for the farmer the city people would starve to death."

The application of the efficiency system of modern manufacturing concerns to marketing farm products and the establishment of a system of agricultural education that will reach the masses of farmers, instead of a select few in colleges were the keynotes of an address on "The New Education of Farmers" by Dr. Charles McCarthy, director of the Wisconsin legislative reference bureau.

Dr. McCarthy argued that it is gross inefficiency to have the farmers receive only $6,000,000,000 for products that cost the consumers $12,000,000,000, which, he said, is the case at present.

"We need a bureau of markets in Washington," he asserted. "Haphazard methods and the consequent waste is one of the causes of the high cost of living."

Speaking on agricultural education, Dr. McCarthy said: "We are formulating a plan in Wisconsin which will, in time, be imitated the country over. We propose to have a corps of trained instructors, who will travel throughout the counties of the state and bring agricultural education to the very doors of the people. They will go into the homes of the farmers and point out to them methods of improving their farms and increasing their crops. Farmers who can afford to send their sons to college don't need to be helped. They can help themselves. It is the poor farmer that needs the assistance."

CITIZENS SERVING AS DEPUTIES

Akron, O., March 13.—William D. Haywood, commander-in-chief of the I. W. W., arrived in Akron this morning.

He was met at the union station by 200 Akron citizens, who have been sworn in as deputies, headed by police Captain Guillet.

Capt. Guillet told Haywood that the authorities would countenance no incendiary speeches and that any attempt upon his part to incite violence would be met with immediate arrest and deportation from the city.

Haywood promised to do nothing which would incite his followers and he was permitted to proceed to the I. W. W. local headquarters. He announced that he would speak in a hall instead of at a park this afternoon.

There is no disorder at any of the rubber plants at noon and it is believed that the 200 citizen deputies now have the situation well in hand.

About one thousand Akron citizens armed with clubs this morning aided the police and deputy sheriffs in patrolling the streets in the vicinity of the rubber factories with the result that no efforts were made by the strikers to picket the factories or molest the workers. More citizens are expected to be sworn in by Mayor Rockwell today. Hundreds of automobiles have been placed at the disposal of the police.

Husband and Wife Both Saved From Suffering

I wish to tell you the good results myself and husband received from Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. About eleven years ago I had a severe attack of La Grippe and was confined to my bed about eight weeks under the doctor's care. He pronounced my case kidney trouble and rheumatism and not receiving the results from the doctor's treatment I should have received. I decided to try Swamp-Root. After taking several bottles of Swamp-Root I was able to get up and attend to my work. About a year later my husband was affected with a severe attack of kidney trouble and doctor's for some time with the doctors and received no benefit. Knowing of the good I had received, I decided to try Swamp-Root. His condition was such that he was confined to his bed and words cannot tell how he suffered, but after taking Swamp-Root he was relieved so he could go on with his work without pain. I wish to heartily recommend Swamp-Root to all persons afflicted with kidney and bladder troubles and you may publish this letter if you wish.

Yours truly,

NEWARK CLUB OWNER FAILS TO POST FORFEIT

Time Limit Expires With No Word from Owner Frank G. Warden or Representatives—Matter Remains at Standstill Until League Meeting With in the Next Two Weeks.

The future of organized baseball in Newark now rests with the officials of the Ohio State League, and upon their decision will depend whether Frank G. Warden will be given another chance to protect the franchise he has owned.

Yesterday was "forfeit day" for the state league clubs and Mr. Warden was the only club owner who failed to protect his property. All other clubs, Lima included, protected the franchises by posting the forfeit checks with Secretary Joe Carr.

In conversation with Mr. Carr by phone this afternoon, the statement was made that the Newark franchise had been forfeited when Mr. Warden or his representatives failed to post the forfeit check.

HIGH SCHOOL READY FOR FINAL GAME AT TOURNEY

On Monday, March 11, the Newark High basketball team goes to Delaware to play Delaware High for the championship of the state of Ohio. The team, which is the local team, went to that city to compete in the finals and returned at the head of the list, and since Delaware has won out in the finals also, it leaves these two teams in the race for the championship cup of Ohio. They will return with one cup at least, but there is a possibility of a second if they are victorious.

This year athletes have been on a higher standard than ever before in the history of the school and the results have been well worth the efforts. After having won the Central Ohio football championship they have come back in basketball in competition with the entire state. These results are largely due to the work of Coach Kiley who has done wonders with the team this year and also to the work of the team and the students who themselves have co-operated in the work for the school.

Aside from the work of those mentioned above, the team is in no way indebted to anyone for the success it has attained. The boys have stood all expenses, rented their own hall and in fact everything necessary. They have been greatly handicapped this year in their sports for the lack of a gymnasium, especially when they were defeated by such teams as Delaware, Springfield and Columbus teams all of whom have completely equipped gymnasiums of their own. This has been a great handicap in the high school and even greater in the attendance of the game. It is needed more and more. The need for it can be plainly seen when they are competing with these teams which are provided with all the advantages for they are, as a rule, in a much better condition. Ever the members of the team who have taken their time in the evening to help at the Hickey Hall so that it will comply more with the rules of the game. The students of the school have needed this and have hoped for it more than most of the other improvements. They hope that the Board of Education or some public minded persons will find it possible to provide it in the near future.

The Board of Education has purchased the old Y. M. C. A. hall for the sports but it has been unimproved. It is also hoped that they will see their way clear to put it in condition for a year or more, for with the spring season coming the baseball spirit is awakening among the lovers of that sport.

FINE DEBATE AT BROOK SIDE

The literary society, holding their annual debate at the Brookside school, was a very interesting affair. The subject was "The Americanization of the Immigrant." The debate was held between the students of the Brookside school and the students of the Newark High school. The debate was very well conducted and the students of both schools showed a high degree of interest and ability.

READY TO MEET MT. VERNON HERE

Local Debaters Polish Up Speeches for Friday Night's Event—Names of Speakers.

The debate will be held at the Mount Vernon school on Friday night, March 15th. The speakers will be Mr. Warden and Mr. Carr.

will not ask and does not want any further extension. The unqualified statement was made that unless some one in Newark came forward with financial assistance, Mr. Warden would not operate a club here.

When the question of forfeiture is finally settled, the league will be ready to take up the matter with any one else who might wish to take up the franchise, either for Newark or some other town.

At the Neil house in Columbus yesterday, a number of league managers gathered, though there was no called meeting. Some of the baseball men made the trip to Columbus. Representatives were present from Portsmouth and Ironton.

A called meeting of the managers will be held in Columbus within the next two weeks when final action will be taken regarding the Newark situation. Until that time, matters will remain in an uncertain state. It is probable that if Mr. Warden desires to go it alone for another season, the league officials will receive his guarantee check with thanks. The same situation will probably prevail if he succeeds in interesting any one here to the extent of selling an interest in the club.

The guests of the banquet were the members of the Newark Y. M. C. A. and the members of the Newark High school. The dinner was very well attended and the guests enjoyed it very much.

AMUSEMENTS

Springfield Liked "The Littlest Rebel"

The Springfield Daily News of March 4 has the following to say of "The Littlest Rebel" which appears at the Auditorium in this city tonight: "The Littlest Rebel" presented at the Fairbanks yesterday matinee and evening by Mrs. J. J. Foran, fulfilling the promise of a very advanced, light and afforded the large audience assembled to witness the performance, two and one-half hours of as pretty a sequence of romantic, pathetic, stirring and martial events as one could wish to see in the works of a famous dramatist. "The Littlest Rebel" is full of heroics and heart interest, and many a scene was dimmed during the first scenes. The play is the name implies deals with the growing experience of those who were in the "stars and bars" and is a vivid portrayal of the brutality of war, through which a young boy, Marshall Farrum, who is now starting in the part of Capt. Herbert Cary, Confederate scout, has demonstrated his eligibility to a niche in the hall of fame alongside of his brothers. His characterization of the noble, lovable scout is admirable. He observes a restraint which saves the part from any false note in the very difficult passages.

The scenic effects were beautiful. The scenic effects followed each act which evoked the audience's pleasure in the play.

DELAWARE MUST MEET MT. VERNON IF NEWARK LOSES

Declaring that Delaware will win easily in the game with Mt. Vernon at Delaware next Saturday, Mt. Vernon basketball players declare they will challenge the Delaware team for a final game. Mt. Vernon has twice defeated Newark and the team doubts the efficiency of the plan by which Newark was chosen as a contender against Delaware.

This may be a cold, cruel world, but it's the best we have at the present writing.

WANT CLASS OF 100 FOR CHAPTER BY APRIL 7TH

There are over 300 members of the Masonic fraternity in Newark who have never advanced higher in Masonry than the Blue Lodge, the most of whom, probably, have never been urged to take the higher degrees. They are becoming interested, since the project of erecting a temple here has taken a tangible form and the work on it has reached the point where the foundation has been constructed, the contract for the building let and the time near at hand for the work on the superstructure to begin, and as a result there has been a noticeable increase in the applications for membership in the higher bodies of Masonry.

At a recent meeting of the Chapter it was decided to make an effort to have a class of 100 applicants for the Chapter degrees at the meeting in April, and an active canvass of the Blue Lodge Masons is being made. Although but a few days have elapsed since the movement was started there have already been secured many applications for the Chapter, and it is believed, judging from the manner in which the movement is taking hold, that the desired number will be secured. There is no reason why at least two-thirds of those Masons who are not members of the Chapter now should not become affiliated with it. If possible every one will be seen between now and Monday, April 7, and urged to be a member of the big class.

Masonry in Newark is on the increase and the new members are taking active hold of the work. This is shown by the increased attendance on the meetings of the various bodies, and those who have been dilatory in their attendance will have an effective revival if they but put off their cloak of sloth and indifference and again renew their acquaintance with the interior of the lodge room. They will then be able to understand why that grand order is moving forward so rapidly in this city and will be anxious to do their share in its advancement.

NEWARK'S PLAYGROUND FOR BOYS AND GIRLS.

When the Board of Education, at the suggestion of the Newark Board of Trade, bought the five acre Flory field last year for the purpose of establishing a children's playground, the action was applauded by practically everybody, except those who oppose every forward step or those who were ignorant of the object and purpose of the plan.

The ground is now owned by the city of Newark and it will be made into a public playground. The extent of the improvement and the value of the new institution to the rising generation and to the generations to come will depend upon the way in which the proposition is handled. This problem is now before the school board and will have consideration at the board's meeting next Tuesday night, March 18.

Many who had never seen a modern playground imagined that the board of education intended to turn the big lot over to the boys of the town to do with it as they pleased—a place for baseball and "shinney" and other games—a place where riot might run with a free hand. The desire and intention, however, is to build a big fence around the lot, erect a commodious grand stand, make a first class base ball diamond, build a quarter-mile track, a half dozen basketball outfits and install athletic apparatus and at the same time make provision for the care and amusement of the smaller children who will not take part in the athletic sports. All of this equipment will cost something but it will be worth more than its costs.

The playground is to be conducted under competent supervision and order will be preserved. The grandstand can, in time, be made to pay for itself and shower baths under the grandstand can be made to be self-sustaining. An attractive field with good grandstand will mean that many of the college games now played in Granville can be brought to Newark and inter-city high school contests of various kinds can be held in this city.

The new playground can be made a feature of Newark at comparatively small cost and what is done should be well done not for a season but for years to come.

The boys of Newark will doubtless be glad to contribute their work towards making the playground and the boys and girls together could by very little effort secure the funds needed to do the work if the school board finds it self unable to provide sufficient funds. The boys and girls could organize and through solicitation of small sums or by work of various kinds, quickly raise a fund sufficient to meet all requirements. It would be a good thing to re-

Utterly Wretched
Nervous Prostration Long Endured Before Remedy was Found.
Miss Minerva Reminger, Upper Barn, Pa., writes: "For several years I had nervous prostration, and was utterly wretched. I lived on bread and butter because my stomach would not retain anything else. I took many remedies, but obtained no relief until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, when I began to gain at once. Am now cured. Pure blood makes strong nerves, and this is why Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and enriches the blood, cures so many nervous diseases. Get it today in usual liquid form or associated tablets called Sarsaparils."

FIRST THINGS

The first white man to set foot on the Philippine Islands was Magellan, who landed at Jomonjol, now Malhoun, an islet in the strait between Samar and Dinagat, 382 years ago today, March 13, 1521. Afterward he discovered other islands of the group, which he called the St. Lazarus islands, and was killed by the natives on the island of Mactan on April 27th of the same year. Both the Spanish and the Portuguese claimed the islands, the former calling them the Isles de Poniente, and the latter bestowing the name of Isle de Oriente upon their discovery. Spain eventually made good her claim, and held the islands until they were sold to the United States in 1898 for $20,000,000. For a brief period, between 1762 and 1764, the city of Manila was held by the English, but they surrendered it to Spain upon payment of a ransom of $5,000,000.

THIS IS AN HONEST ADVERTISEMENT

It Tells a Little Story About a Prescription That Really Cures Indigestion.

A man of long experience in the advertising business said to the writer on November 22, 1912: "I can't for the life of me see how your Company can make any money on MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets. They are too good. They cure too quickly. You can't sell enough to any one person."

Continuing, he said: "My wife was cured of severe stomach trouble two years ago by taking only one-half box and has never been bothered a particle since until about two weeks ago when she had another attack."

"Two days treatment with MI-O-NA and she was as well as ever again. MI-O-NA is fine for the people who take it, but as I said before, how can you make any money?"—Name on application.

MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets are recommended from a stomach specialist's prescription. Daily they are banishing terrible stomach agony in the palaces of the rich and in the humble cottages of the poor.

The price, 50 cents, at your druggist, or a generous boxful is surely a modest one to pay for certain stomach comfort. Evans' Drug Store guarantees MI-O-NA.

COMMUNICATED

HOSPITALS AND SEWERS.

A complaint against a hospital using the Buena Vista street sewer has been sent to the Newark Board of Health. This sewer carries a large volume of storm water during heavy rains, which causes the sewage to back up into the catch basins and forces it up so it overflows on the street and sidewalk at Indiana street.

The condition is unsanitary at such times and we leave you to imagine how dangerous it must become when germs more deadly than typhoid will be distributed all over our city by vehicles and pedestrians passing through the filthy mud.

Again when the catch basins are cleaned wagon loads of offensive dirt are piled in the street, often being left there over night and finally hauled to the city dump where it is left exposed and blows over the city as dust.

This sewer has been under observation ever since it was built and now the stubborn effort to build a hospital upon this street with its sewer problem shows no consideration for the health of the city.

The above are not sensational statements. They are facts based upon the observations of physicians and others and upon the opinion of sanitary engineers.

The time to prevent this danger is NOW, before our hospital in operation causes more illness than many can overcome.

M'COMBS MAY NOT ACCEPT A FOREIGN POST

Washington, March 12.—Chairman W. F. McCombs today told President Wilson that he preferred not to accept the ambassadorship to France that he might remain in private life.

Upon the president's suggestion, however, he agreed to hold his mind open until April 1. Over a week ago McCombs declined a place in the cabinet. After the conference McCombs said that if he did accept the ambassadorship, he did not think he would resign the Democratic National chairmanship as he did not expect to remain abroad for over four years.

Close friends of McCombs who talked with him after the conference said that he was practically certain he would decline the foreign post. It was rumored that Richard Olney might decline the post at England.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

DUKE AND DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT, 34 YEARS WEDDED.

His Royal Highness, Prince Arthur William Patrick Albert, Duke of Connaught, and Princess Louise Margaret Alexandra Victoria Agnes, Duchess of Connaught, will celebrate today the 34th anniversary of their marriage. The Duchess was born in 1859, the daughter of Prince Frederick Charles of Prussia, and was a beautiful girl of 18 when she became the bride of the Duke, who is nearly ten years her senior. The Canadian governor-general is the seventh of Queen Victoria's children, who were nine in number, four of whom still live. Two serious illnesses have threatened the life of the Duchess since her arrival in Canada in October, 1911, and for this reason the Duke has decided to relinquish his post at the expiration of his term next autumn.

The Duke and Duchess have three children. The eldest, Margaret Victoria Augusta Charlotte, is now 31. She was married eight years ago to Crown Prince Gustav Adolf of Sweden, a great-grandson of the present Swedish royal house. She is the mother of three sons and a daughter. Prince Arthur Frederick Patrick Albert, only son of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, is now in his 11th year. He has been prominently mentioned as his father's successor as governor-general of Canada, but the proposal has not met with a great deal of enthusiasm either in government circles at London or in the Dominion. His youth and the fact that he is a bachelor are against his appointment, although he is a young man of marked ability and highly popular throughout the empire. The baby of the family is Prince Arthur, born in 1914.

SILVER THREADS

Life is fading fast away, silver threads are on my brow; will you love me when I'm old, as you love me now, my dear? Will you love me when I'm old, and my temper on the blink, and I sit around and scold till I drive the folks to drink? When I have the rheumatism, and lumbago and repeat, and the cusses words fairly sizz as I nurse my swollen feet; when a crutch I have to use, since my tribys are so lame, that they will not move, will you love me just the same? When the gout infests my toes, and all vanished are my charms, will you kiss me on the nose, will you clasp in your arms? Silver threads are in the gold, life will soon have run its lease; I'd be glad if I were told that your love will still increase when my high ambition fails, and my hopes are all unstrung, and I tell my tiresome tales of the days when I was young; when I sit around the shack making loud and dismal moan, of the stitches in my back, and my aching collar bone; when the asthma racks my chest so I cannot tell you fold me to your breast, saying I'm honey-sired, stiff and sore, when I'm weary of the game, tell me, O you love me just the same.

MISS BUKSAR IS AGAIN CONFINED TO THE HOSPITAL

Miss Anna Buksar, who was shot and dangerously wounded on Christmas day, was removed from her mother's home in Jefferson street to the Newark Sanitarium in Bazler & Bradley's ambulance. Miss Buksar is improving slowly from the gunshot wound but the lung penetrated by the bullet is not entirely cleared up and she was placed in the hospital where she might have the advantage of careful nursing. The bullet has been removed. Advocate readers will remember that Miss Buksar was shot by Antonio Vorsck, who was jealous of her. After wounding Miss Buksar, Vorsck fired a bullet into his own breast and died almost instantly.

After Long Suffering

Women Are Constantly Being Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Worth mountains of gold," says one woman. Another says, "I would not give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all the other medicines for women in the world." Still another writes, "I should like to have the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound thrown on the sky with a searchlight so that all suffering women could read and be convinced that there is a remedy for their ills."

We could fill a newspaper ten times the size of this with such quotations taken from the letters we have received from grateful women whose health has been restored and suffering banished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished such a universal success? Why has it lived and thrived and kept on doing its glorious work among the sick women of the world for more than 30 years?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has ever approached its success is plainly and simply because there is no other medicine so good for women's ills.

Here are two letters that just came to the writer's desk—only two of thousands, but both tell a comforting story to every suffering woman who will read them—and be guided by them.

FROM MRS. D. H. BROWN.
Iola, Kansas.—"During the Change of Life I was sick for two years. Before I took your medicine I could not bear the weight of my clothes and was bloated very badly. I doctored with three doctors but they did me no good. They said nature must have its way. My sister advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I purchased a bottle. Before it was gone the bloating left me and I was not so sore. I continued taking it until I had taken 12 bottles. Now I am stronger than I have been for years and can do all my work, even the washing. Your medicine is worth its weight in gold. I cannot praise it enough. If more women would take your medicine there would be more healthy women. You may use this letter for the good of others."—Mrs. D. H. Brown, 509 North Walnut Street, Iola, Kan.

MRS. WILLIAMS SAYS:
Elkhart, Ind.—"I suffered for 14 years from organic inflammation, female weakness, pain and irregularities. The pains in my sides were increased by walking or standing on my feet and I had such awful bearing down feelings, was depressed in spirits and became thin and pale with dull, heavy eyes. I had six doctors from whom I received only temporary relief. I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial and also the Sanitary Wash. I have now used the remedies for four months and cannot express my thanks for what they have done for me."—Mrs. NADIE WILLIAMS, 455 James Street, Elkhart, Indiana.

Consider Two Men
Mr. A. is $500 in debt.
Mr. B. has $500 ahead and deposited in a savings account in this "Old Home" Building Association, earning four per cent interest.
The difference in the lives of these two men—the result of these contrasting conditions, would make a long story.
Many men who have worked for ten years or more are $500 in debt like Mr. A. Others are merely even, nothing ahead.
And yet, only 25c a day saved and deposited here would amount to $1,147.00 in ten years—more than the entire difference in the standing of A and B.
A savings account does indeed make a vast difference in one's whole life.

"CASCARETS" MAKE YOU FEEL GREAT

A 10 Cent Box Will Keep Your Liver Healthy and Bowels Clean, Pure and Fresh for Months

Sick Headaches, Bilelessness, dimness, coated tongue, foul taste and bad breath—these trace them to torpid liver, due to fermenting food in the bowels, or, gassy stomach. A Cascaret is a clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system. When absorbed into the blood, when the poison reaches the delicate brain, it causes congestion and dull, throbbing, sickening headaches. Salts, cathartics, pills, oil and purgative waters are a passageway for a day or two—but they don't take the poison out and have no effect upon the liver or stomach.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the system and carry out of the system all the consipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you up by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10 cent box from your drug store means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels clean and regular for months.

Brightening Work

It was a sordid looking factory, dingy in its color, dingy in its littered tree-less yard. Pallid, sad-faced girls could be seen at the windows, busily working at some machinery. A dull, monotonous whir and rumble came from the building.

Undoubtedly, those girls were not toiling there because they loved that kind of work. They were there because grim necessity had driven them to it. Therefore, it may be taken for granted, they got little pleasure from their work.

They certainly could not get any pleasure from their surroundings. Nowhere that the eye rested, was there anything to brighten and cheer, unless indeed it be when they glanced toward the sky. But somehow or other, not many of us have the habit of glancing toward the sky. We consider the earth beneath our feet, more often than we do the sky above our head.

And when these girls were through their day's task, what awaited them? Probably a home as sordid and unattractive as the mill they had left.

And that is their life, endlessly, day after day.

They can find no pleasure in their work. They can find no pleasure in their surroundings. They can find no pleasure in their home.

So, what is the result?

They get disgusted with their work, with their dull, colorless life. And they seek that which seems pleasure, or at any rate, that which offers a relief from this monotonous existence.

For girlhood must have pleasure, just as the body must have sweets. And so these girls do things they should not. And then, we condemn them; or we try to reform them, and get them to go back to this gray existence.

Would it not be wiser to reform these conditions, so that the workers will have no desire to leave them. Would not the saner way be to put color and pleasure into their life, so that they will not look longingly at the bright lights, and be tempted like the moth to their destruction?

Perhaps their work and the conditions surrounding it cannot be improved. In that case, let them have clean, legitimate pleasure, that will give them a relish for their work. The girl who has a pleasant evening to look forward to, or one to look back upon, does not mind her day's work, no matter how monotonous it may be. But the girl who has nothing but distasteful work to think upon, gets into that melancholy and reckless mood, where temptation finds an easy victim.

So when we see these sordid, dingy factories, with their pallid, sad-faced workers, let us try to see life from their viewpoint; and perhaps this glimpse will inspire us to some effort to brighten their day.

The Best Cough Syrup is Easily Made at Home

Costs Little and Acts Quickly. Money Refunded if It Fails.

This recipe makes a pint of cough syrup, and saves you about $2.00 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It stops obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—in a hurry, and is splendid for sore lungs, asthma, croup, hoarseness and other throat troubles.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Tastes good.

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative—both excellent features.

Pinex, as perhaps you know, is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiac and the other natural healing pine elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this recipe, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe. This plan has often been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equalled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

WHO'S WHO IN THE NEW WILSON CABINET

William Jennings Bryan's selection for the office of secretary of state in the Wilson cabinet was due to no small measure. It has been said, to the part he played in the fight for progressive doctrine at the Democratic convention at Baltimore.

Mr. Bryan's public career, in the course of which he was three times nominated by the Democratic party for the presidency, began in the period from 1875 to 1895, when he was elected to the Fifty-second and Fifty-third congresses from the First Nebraska district. He received the Democratic vote for United States senator in the Nebraska legislature in 1893 and was nominated for the same office in the Democratic convention in 1896, but was defeated by John M. Thurston. He declined re-nomination as congressman in that year and became editor of the Omaha World-Herald.

It was in 1896 that he sprang into national prominence as the leader of the Democratic party. At the national Democratic convention of that year he wrote the silver plank into the platform and made his celebrated "Cross of Thorns" speech, which carried the convention by a landslide and won for him the nomination on the fourth ballot with 69 votes.

Mr. Bryan followed up his nomination by a tireless campaign, during which he covered 18,000 miles and spoke at almost every stopping place. He was decisively defeated, however, receiving but 176 electoral votes against 221 for McKinley.

In the Democratic national convention of 1900 Mr. Bryan was again nominated for the presidency amid a scene of the wildest enthusiasm, and he was endorsed by the Populist and silver Republican conventions. Again Mr. Bryan made a remarkable campaign, but McKinley defeated him, receiving 221 electoral votes to 155 for Bryan.

In 1904 Mr. Bryan made a tour of the world and was everywhere received with great consideration. His return to New York was the signal for a tremendous demonstration, and it was freely said at that time that he would again be nominated. This proved to be the case, as he dominated the national convention at Denver in 1908 and was named to oppose William Howard Taft, the Republican nominee. He was defeated for the third time, Mr. Taft obtaining 221 electoral votes and Mr. Bryan 152.

Mr. Bryan was born in Salem, Ill., on March 19, 1856, and was graduated at the Illinois college, Jacksonville, Ill., in 1881 and received the degree of A. M. in 1884. He received an LL. D. from the Union College of Law in 1883 and was admitted to the Illinois bar the same year. He practiced law at Jacksonville from 1883 to 1887 and then moved to Lincoln, Neb., where he now has his home. On Oct. 1, 1884, Mr. Bryan married Mary Elizabeth Baird of Perry, Ill.

William Gibbs McAdoo first became a prominent figure in politics as acting chairman of the Democratic national committee last fall. He was assistant chairman and because of the illness of William F. McComb, was called upon to take charge of the campaign.

It is as the builder of the Hudson tunnels perhaps that Mr. McAdoo is best known, for he accomplished in six years what was considered one of the greatest engineering feats in history.

Mr. McAdoo was born near Marietta, Ga., on Oct. 31, 1853. The civil war cost the family all of its possessions, and Mr. McAdoo's father, who had been a judge and a soldier, was afterward forced to take up teaching as a profession at the University of Tennessee. At the end of his junior year Mr. McAdoo left the university because of the lack of family funds to take a place as clerk in the United States circuit court. This gave him the opportunity to study law, and when he was twenty-one years old he was admitted to the bar at Chattanooga, Tenn.

He dabbled in local politics then, but soon ambition led him to go to New York. Here he formed a partnership with William McAdoo, who had been an assistant secretary of the navy and Cleveland and later police commissioner of New York.

In 1902 Mr. McAdoo organized the New York and New Jersey Railroad company, which acquired the old tunnel under the Hudson that was begun in 1825. In 1903 he was elected president of the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad company, which operates the present system.

Mr. McAdoo was married at Chattanooga, Tenn., in 1885 to Miss Sarah Harlan, a native of New York, and they had six children. Mrs. McAdoo died a year ago. Mr. McAdoo's home is at Irvington.

Lindley M. Garrison. Lindley M. Garrison has long been looked upon by the president elect as a man of unusual force and ability, and the two men formed a close friendship while Mr. Wilson was governor of New Jersey. Mr. Garrison has been vice-chancellor of New Jersey and occupied that post when appointed to a seat in the cabinet.

Mr. Garrison was born at Camden, N. J., on Nov. 23, 1854, the son of the Rev. Joseph F. Garrison. He was graduated from the Essex academy and spent a year at Harvard and another at the University of Pennsylvania. He finished his law studies at the University of Pennsylvania and was admitted to the bar in Philadelphia in 1882 and to the New Jersey bar in 1883 as an attorney and in 1882 as a counselor.

In 1898 Mr. Garrison formed the law firm of Garrison, McManus & Enright in Jersey City, but left that firm in June, 1904, when the office of vice-chancellor was offered to him by Chancellor Major. When his seven year term expired in 1911 he was reappointed by Chancellor Pitney to serve until 1913. Mr. Garrison is a brother of Justice Charles G. Garrison of the supreme court of New Jersey.

William Cox Redfield. William Cox Redfield has been an interesting figure in public life. He represented the Fifth district of Brooklyn in congress and last fall was talked of as a candidate for the governorship. He formally announced his candidacy for the vice-presidential nomination on the Democratic ticket. As a congressman Mr. Redfield was an ardent advocate of a downward tariff revision, especially on food-stuffs and the necessities of life.

He was born in Albany on June 15, 1853, and was educated at the high school of Pittsfield, Mass. He has been prominent in Brooklyn politics and business for many years.

Borough President Swanstrom appointed Mr. Redfield Brooklyn commissioner of public works in 1912. He is a trustee of the City club, a member of the board of governors of the Crescent club and a trustee of the M. C. A. Mr. Redfield was elected to congress from the Fifth district of Brooklyn as the candidate of the Democratic and Independence league parties and won much support because of his attitude on tariff revision.

that newspaper, the North Carolinian and the News and Observer. Mr. Daniels was made state treasurer of North Carolina in 1897, holding the office until 1902, and for the next two years he was chief clerk of the department of the interior. He has been a prominent figure in Democratic national conventions.

Mr. Daniels' ambition as a newspaper man, he once said, was to own a newspaper which was a power in his state, and it was with that aim in view that he devoted so much of his time to the News and Observer.

Mr. Daniels was married on May 2, 1898, to Addie N. Bagley, daughter of Major W. H. Bagley. His home is at Raleigh, N. C.

Franklin Knight Lane. Franklin Knight Lane leaves the chairmanship of the Interstate commerce commission to enter the cabinet. Mr. Lane was born in Prince Edward Island July 15, 1864, and was graduated from the University of California in 1894. Three years later he began the practice of law in San Francisco and was corporation counsel of that city from 1897 to 1902. The latter year he was a candidate for governor of the state and a year later received the party vote of the legislature for United States senator. Mr. Lane had been a member of the interstate commerce commission since December, 1906, and was a member of the permanent international railway commission.

In 1911 he advocated a corporation commission similar to the interstate commerce commission, with power to regulate all business enterprises engaged in interstate commerce, as the best cure for the so-called trust evils.

He has also said that he thought the interstate commerce commission should have the power to say where a new railroad should be located. Mr. Lane argued that on the efficiency of the railway systems depended the prosperity of the country. Mr. Lane was married to Anne Wittermuth of Tacoma in 1892.

Albert Sidney Burleson. Albert Sidney Burleson has been a member of the house of representatives from Texas since 1899 and in late years has been a prominent figure in that body. He was a staunch supporter of Governor Wilson and his doctrines in the early pre-convention days. Mr. Burleson was born at San Marcos, Tex., on June 7, 1853, and was educated at the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Texas, Baylor university of Waco and the University of Texas.

In 1884 Mr. Burleson was admitted to the bar and was assistant city attorney of Austin from 1885 to 1890. In 1891 he was appointed by the governor of Texas as attorney general of the Twenty-sixth judicial district, an office which he held through three successive terms until 1898. He represented both the Ninth and later the Tenth Texas districts in congress. His chief work was done as a member of the appropriations committee.

William Bauchop Wilson. William Bauchop Wilson of Pennsylvania has taken an active part in trade union matters for many years and from 1890 to 1899 was secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America. He was born in Blair, Scotland, on April 2, 1852, and his parents came to this country in 1870 and settled at Arnot, Tioga county, Pa. Mr. Wilson went to work in the coal mines in March, 1871.

Among labor union men Mr. Wilson has enjoyed wide popularity, and his appointment will be received by them with the greatest satisfaction. His re-election each time as secretary-treasurer of the Mine Workers of America was practically without opposition because of the efficient service he had given to the union.

Of late years Mr. Wilson has engaged in farming at Blossburg, Pa., where he now has his home. He was elected from that district to the Sixtieth congress, receiving more votes than all of the other candidates together. Mr. Wilson is married and has nine children.

liamentary tangle, during which it was disclosed that Representative Jones, who wrote the house rules, framed one at variance with parliamentary law in other parts of the civilized world, but which untied the knot. It was that adjournment necessary to the table pending question. To get out of the tangle, the former bill was killed by a vote of 175 to 15, and that vote was reconsidered by 76 to 29.

the light on the eight-hour amendment offered by Mr. Tetlow of Columbia followed. Those who opposed it ended that the industrial commission should be left unhampered to dictate an eight-hour day in some industries, but not in others, holding that regulation of hours in all industries was unjust.

The Scott amendment, exempting hotels, was reconsidered and defeated by 37 to 51. Amendments by Mr. Williams to exempt business houses, hotels and mercantile establishments and by Mr. Detrick of Louisiana to exempt American plan hotels in cities of less than 2,500 inhabitants were also said to say the Bellefontaine hotels were defeated.

Pick of Scioto then secured the adoption of the amendment applying the nine-hour limitation to all women employed in the home. By 65 to 51 the bill was ordered passed to third reading.

Henry Tetlow of Columbiana made chief attack on the industrial commission bill by offering an amendment applying the referendum to the case of the people to all orders of the commission having the effect of legislation. Both he and Mr. Eyc of Lucas showed by excerpts that the Wisconsin commission, from which the Ohio commission was patterned, has legislative authority and cannot suggest and that the Haas bill does not give such power to the Ohio commission, both in general by authority of the law and not only the law but "lawful orders," that is to say, its own orders. The specific power to regulate the wages of labor of employees in every industry, Taylor and others contended.

as the people had exercised their referendum power to themselves. The general assembly, it was not right to take that referendum power away by giving legislative authority to a commission. Therefore, he wanted a referendum to let the people on legislation by the commission. The amendment was voted 34 to 79. The bill was passed by a 16.

the governor assured them he would do nothing that would tend in any manner to trammel agricultural interests.

IS FAVORED BY GOVERNOR COX

Governor Cox not only has declared himself in favor of a minimum wage for women, but has called upon the legislature to enact a compelling mercantile employees to furnish data on the wages to women workers so the industrial commission can establish a minimum wage. The information must be sent to the department workshops and factories within five days after the law becomes effective. It will carry an emergency clause making it law upon its passage.

The industrial commission will be in a position ready to act upon the data soon as it is gathered. The bill stating the commission passed there yesterday and is ready for the governor's signature as soon as the vote has concurred in some minor amendments.

overman Cox said he had considered carefully many plans for a minimum wage for women, but that he had been dissuaded from asking for legislation to that effect by reason of lack of data upon which to determine the amount.

This is the information employers would be compelled to furnish. Therefore the number of employees in or out of the mercantile establishments, the number of girls under 18 years of age; the weekly wage paid each girl under 18 years; the different hours of employment and the number employed in each; the number of hours per day each girl is em-ed: such other information relevant to the hours of employment, the wages paid, which the inspector of workshops and factories may deem useful.

"The Sweetest Smoke in the World" is Tuxedo in a genuine "Missouri Meerschaum" pipe with a Weichsel stem.

Remember the old corn cob pipe you used to smoke? How sweet and cool it was always?

And for the best and simplest reasons: The corn cob naturally absorbs the nicotine from the burning tobacco. The smoke that enters your mouth must be sweet and cool. No other pipe has ever equalled the cob in its own sterling qualities.

The Missouri Meerschaum is the Corn Cob Pipe de Luxe. It looks better—is made better—will last longer and gives the same sweet smoke as the old-time cob. The stem of Weichsel wood contains fragrant aromatic oils which are released when the smoke enters the stem, making a smoke which cannot be excelled in delicacy and sweetness.

The Greatest Men in America Endorse Tuxedo Tobacco

The live, virile men who make this country what it is, recognize the relaxation from nervous and mental strain, the restfulness—that comes from smoking Tuxedo tobacco. A host of famous Americans say frankly and emphatically that Tuxedo is the one tobacco containing every desirable element and not one that is undesirable.

Tuxedo strengthens your will to do. The soothing quality of a pipeful of this mild, delicious, aromatic tobacco restores your poise and revives your going power by enabling you to rest.

You can smoke Tuxedo! No matter how often you have tried to smoke a pipe and failed, there is comfort and satisfaction in pipe smoking for you if you fill your pipe with Tuxedo.

Tuxedo has made pipe smoking possible to thousands of men. The "Tuxedo process" of treating the finest, mildest leaves of the highest grade Burley tobacco, causes Tuxedo to burn slowly with delicious flavor and the most enjoyable aroma. Tuxedo cannot bite, sting or irritate the mouth, nose or throat.

Hundreds of well-known doctors, orators, actors, lawyers, singers, lecturers, ministers and other public speakers testify that smoking Tuxedo gives them the keenest pleasure and exercises a good influence on the throat.

Tuxedo has many imitators. None of them has yet discovered the "Tuxedo process." Tuxedo remains unique and unrivaled.

WISHES OTHERS TO HAVE RELIEF

Another Lady Tells Public What the United Doctors Have Done For Her.

TREATED ONE MONTH.

Suffered From Stomach and Kidney Trouble for a Period of Five Years.

"I have suffered for five years with pains in my head, back, neck and shoulder blades," said Mrs. Addie Pettit of 713 Broadway street, Martins Ferry, Ohio, in speaking of her condition of health before going to the United Doctors, who have their Newark Institute on the second floor of the Arcade building.

"My stomach and kidneys were in bad condition," continued Mrs. Pettit, "and I had constant gas on my stomach, my appetite was poor, and my system run-down in general."

"My experience with one month's treatment with the United Doctors has been of the best. I have no more pains or aches, my appetite is good, I eat fine and I wish others to obtain the same relief I obtained, and hence make this statement for publication."

The above statement made recently (March 3d, 1913) tells the old repeated story of the excellent results constantly being obtained by the United Doctors method of treatment in all chronic ailments or diseases.

Among other ailments the United Doctors treat chronic diseases of the nerves, blood, heart, liver, kidneys, bladder, including rheumatism, paralysis, gall-stones, colic, indigestion, constipation, rectal troubles, weak lungs, loss of nerve force, dropsy, catarrh, asthma, deafness, and diseases of women and diseases of men.

The United Doctors prepare all of their medicines in their own laboratory for the individual requirements of each patient. Their system of treatment is the "Uniting" of the three principal recognized systems of medicine—Allopathic, Homeopathic and Eclectic, which gives them a much larger field from which to obtain cures than can be obtained by any single school or method of treatment.

IMPROVEMENT ANNOUNCED IN CAR SERVICE

SHORTER SCHEDULE BETWEEN CHILDREN'S HOME, COUNTRY CLUB AND CEDAR ST.

Arrangements Made to Reduce Crowding on Cars to Buckeye Lake This Summer.

The street car service in Newark is to be improved upon and that in the very near future. This good news comes from an authentic source and is to be taken as certain of early realization. President Fred C. Evans and Secretary W. C. Wells of the Board of Trade, while in Columbus Wednesday, held a conference with some of the officials of the company and the matter of extensions in Newark city and the improvement of the interurban service was taken up.

In the first place, there will be sufficient cars put on to give a 15-minute service to the Children's Home and the Country Club, which of course will also mean a 15-minute service to North Cedar street, that will be most welcome to vast numbers of people, including both residents along the line and those who have business to attend to at Cedar Hill cemetery.

The extension of the urban service to the Country Club will benefit greatly all concerned.

During certain hours at present the Granville service is greatly crippled, as there are many people living between Williams street and the Cherry Valley school house who ride on the Granville car, that will now have a much better and quicker way to get to their homes, and Granville patrons will be able to get seats at the square for their homes.

This new regime will obtain as soon as the weather becomes settled.

The officials also informed the Newark men that the extensions in the northwestern part of town, South Newark and Franklin's Addition, and to Mt. Calvary cemetery would be made as soon as matters could be satisfactorily adjusted between the company and the city government, which it is thought can be done to the mutual benefit of both.

Another matter that will interest Newark people is the announcement that the service to Buckeye Lake will be rendered much more efficient during the coming summer, especially during times of excursions.

To this end there will be added to the equipment big upholstered trailers that will be held upon storage tracks to be ready for immediate service, which is intended to avoid unnecessary crowding during busy days.

ARM CRUSHED EMPLOYEE SUES FOR $25,000

BALTIMORE & OHIO RAILROAD CHARGED IN PETITION WITH NEGLIGENCE.

Another Man Wants $5,000 Damages for an Assault and Battery—Court News.

Frank S. Monnett of Columbus, and Flory & Flory of Newark on Thursday filed the petition of William C. Hagar against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company, asking $25,000 damages. The allegations of the petition are that the plaintiff was an employee of said railroad on the 5th day of January, 1909, and that at the time he was ordered by a shop foreman to enter the firebox of one of the passenger locomotives for the purpose of removing a tap projecting down through the crown sheet; that it was dark in the firebox, and that he did not know the tap would be in motion or in what manner they were operated nor was he so instructed; that he took hold of said tap which was grooved and fluted for the purpose of removing it and that the operator of a motor who was stationed outside of the crown sheet, out of sight and hearing of plaintiff, started said motor, causing the tap to revolve at a speed of 600 revolutions per minute; that plaintiff's left hand and arm became entangled and twisted in such a manner that it was necessary to amputate the hand and arm two inches above the wrist. The petition charges negligence of the company in not notifying plaintiff of the dangerous work he was ordered to do, and that he had no means of knowing it.

Petition in Error.

Francis M. Stoolfire has filed a petition in error in the Common Pleas court, from the Probate court setting out fifteen grounds of exceptions to the finding of the Probate court in which defendants in error, Charles A. Megenhoffer, et al. secured a judgment against Stoolfire in the matter of a county ditch. Flory & Flory, attorneys for plaintiff in error.

Als $5,000 Damages.

George M. Hague has begun suit in Common Pleas court by his attorneys, S. L. James and J. F. Moore, against Ellis Jones, for $5,000 damages. He alleges that defendant on August 26, 1912, struck him in the face, tore the clothes from his person, broke and destroyed his false teeth to the value of $20, and was rendered for a long time lame and sick and was otherwise damaged in the sum of $5,000.

Bola vs. Bola.

Alexander Bola has begun suit in Common Pleas court for a divorce from his wife, Mary Bola, alleging in the petition filed by Attorney J. W. Horner that defendant has been guilty of extreme cruelty and infidelity.

In common pleas court on Thursday, the case of Della Shaffer vs. Herbert F. D. Shaffer, was heard to the court on the testimony. An application was made to the court for an order for the payment of alimony pending the suit. The court heard the evidence and reserved his decision.

In Court of Appeals.

In the Court of Appeals, the case of Emma Spicer v. Christian Phillips was continued, owing to the inability of the court to obtain another judge to come here to sit in the place of Judge Voorhees, who is indisposed. The suit is brought to set aside a deed.

For Tuesday next, Jones v. Myers, Jones v. Haynes and Thorp v. Harrington.

For Wednesday next, Fraser v. Nigby Scott v. Scott.

Italians in Trouble.

Warrants were issued in Squire D. M. Jones court Thursday morning upon the affidavit of Santo Campolo, who charges with assault and pointing firearms, a fellow countryman, Jimi Macalini. Constable Emmet Forgraves served the warrants in the afternoon.

Probate Court News.

Judge Hunter has granted a divorce to Elmer J. Jones from his wife, Luavista Jones, on the grounds of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty.

In the divorce proceedings of James G. Walker by his next friend, against Bernice Ruth Walker, an answer has been filed for defendant by her attorneys, Flory & Flory. The petition of plaintiff, who is a minor, aged 19, was filed by Attorney Ralph Norpell, last November and alleges that at the time of the marriage defendant was aged 15 years and that soon after the marriage she deserted plaintiff through the importunities of her parents, and has since refused to live with him. The answer is filed by John W. Rose, father and legal guardian of defendant, and states that the alleged marriage was null and void as defendant was not yet sixteen years of age, and absolutely unable under the laws of Ohio to contract a valid marriage.

The cross petition prays for a divorce and the restoration to defendant of her maiden name, Bernice Ruth Rose.

IMPORTANT CHANGE MADE WEDNESDAY

Thompson Manufacturing Plant Purchased by Phil B. Harrison of Chicago, Ill.

A change has been made in the business of the Thompson Manufacturing company, whose plant is located at Clinton and St. Clair streets. Mr. Phil B. Harrison, formerly of this city, at present general superintendent of the Chicago Railway Equipment company, has taken over the holdings of Mr. W. A. Pungs, who acquired the plant in December. His large business interests elsewhere precluding him giving the local concern the attention to its affairs that was found to be necessary with the growth of the business and he transferred his interests to Mr. Harrison, who has been interested in the company as a stockholder and with his association with the Chicago Railway Equipment company, it made him the logical person to take over the business of the plant for its future development.

The business of the plant has been increasing at a rapid rate and the Thompson Indestructible Hose Clamp as made under the patents owned by the firm, is now introduced in every state in the union. Some of the largest manufacturers of automobiles and railway supplies have already adopted the Thompson clamp to the exclusion of all other types of clamps, so everything points toward a bright business future for the new organization.

Mr. Phil B. Harrison is well and favorably known here. He is a son of the late Mr. W. H. Harrison, former superintendent of motive power of the B. & O. R. R., and who had his headquarters at Newark.

Mr. Phil B. Harrison, the purchaser of the Thompson Mfg. Co., started on his successful business career right here in the B. & O. shops' offices as a draughtsman and worked up until he had charge of the department. Then for a number of years he was with the Pennsylvania railroad headquarters at Columbus, as inspector of material; then he went to Chicago and worked up in the employ of the Chicago Railway Equipment company to his present position, that of general superintendent of the company, and is in charge of six large plants, two being located at Franklin, Pa., with the other branches at Marion, Ind., and Grand Rapids, Mich. Mr. Harrison is thoroughly conversant with foundry, rolling mill and construction work and is especially well equipped to successfully handle his new business undertaking and his many friends here wish him unqualified success. Mr. Eugene Ball, who has been with the clamp business since the start of the company, is retained as manager and the success of the business is in no small measure due to his wide knowledge of the clamp business and close attention to the affairs of the company.

As far as known, this growing business will remain here, but at all events the business will be pushed with all the vigor with which the new very efficient management is capable.

BUSINESS MEN ORGANIZE CLUB AT PATASKALA

Pataskala, Ohio, March 12.—The business men of Pataskala are organizing a commercial club and are planning to increase the prosperity of the town. Sixty-five well-known men met here last night and formed a temporary organization, making George Wells chairman and Jas. Moore secretary. A committee consisting of Charles Fravel, B. D. Fraker, M. E. Mead, Eugene Moore and Charles E. Courtier was appointed to prepare the constitution and bylaws which will be submitted at a meeting to be held next Tuesday evening. Mr. Courtier went to Newark this morning to obtain a copy of the bylaws of the Newark Board of Trade.

Pataskala has a population of only 500 people but they are progressive and enterprising citizens and they are making things "go."

It is probable the new organization will back a movement to establish water works and other needed improvements in the town.

ACCEPTS OFFER IN TREASURY

Robert W. Woolley has been selected as another assistant secretary of the treasury and will succeed Sherman Allen in charge of the miscellaneous bureaus, including the revenue cutter service, life saving
